

Clients:

Dr. Johnston serves clients in corporate, educational, government, and non-profit contexts including:

Corporate

Bridgestone, Cisco Systems, Caterpillar (CAT) Financial, Mapco/Delek, Walgreens, Genesco, Quorum Health Resources, Ingram Barge, Lifeway, Pillsbury, Etc.

Educational

University of Georgia, Pepperdine, University of Massachusetts Vanderbilt University, Lipscomb University, Williamson Co. Schools, Rutherford Co. Schools, Wheaton College, Etc.

Government & Non-Profit

U.S. Army, U.S. Air Force, U.S. Air National Guard, YMCA, Coalition of 100 Black Women, Gideons International, Phoenix Club, Leadership Nashville, Tennessee Government Executives Institute, Williamson County, United Methodist Church, Etc.

What People Are Saying...

"The program was absolutely amazing; I was totally blown away. Not only are you an excellent speaker, but the depth of your knowledge and your gift for teaching impacted the entire group. It is very common to attend an event and come away energized, but it is rare to come away truly changed and given tools that can be put into practice immediately and make a difference for yourself and your team/employer."

--Tammy Mason, Group Benefits Department Manager, The Crichton Group

"Dr. Johnston, you truly have a gift of engaging and captivating audiences. In my 30+ years of attending educational sessions and conferences, I can't tell you when I have enjoyed a session(s) as much as I enjoyed yours. Thank you for challenging us to make a good team great to look at individual situations from a new perspective out of our comfort zone. I hope to have the opportunity to participate in another of your sessions in the near future."

-- Michael Butler, Vice President, Quorum Purchasing Advantage, LLC

"Andrew always earns the highest level of recommendation from our clients at the Center and throughout the state. When a client calls the office and asks for a dynamic speaker on leadership – I think of Andrew first. He never misses the mark of challenging our executives to think broader and more intentionally about their roles. He is an excellent facilitator of discussion, and has quickly become a favorite of ours; I highly recommend him!"

-- Jill Robinson, Director of Executive Learning & Marketing

"Dr. Johnston makes a big impact on his clients. Leaders identify with him because he's one of them. He's been in the trenches and understands the personal and professional challenges they face every day. This experience translates into a practical perspective and the ability to speak with unusual insight, humor, and compassion on the business of moving people and organizations."

-- Dr. Phil Cherico, Executive Pastor

"Dr. Johnston receives overwhelmingly positive feedback when evaluated by our students and is one of the most requested trainers in any of our programs. His teaching is of the highest quality and he is unusually able to adjust to the interests and needs of participants that emerge during the engagement. I am continually impressed by his ability to adapt to clients' experience levels, tone, or needs and to combine research and academic content with practical discussion and activities. This approach is appealing and creates a lasting impact on participants. They consistently praise his ability to advance their own knowledge and abilities."

--Melanie Adams, Head of Instruction & Curriculum, Center for Executive Education